Suyash Tiwari,
Hello Future Builder!

Thank you for your interest in Software Development Engineering full-time opportunities at Amazon! We are excited to move you forward to the next step of the application process, the Online Assessment.

To be considered for an interview, please complete the online assessment (link below) within 5 days of receiving this invitation or as communicated by the recruiting team. In preparation for the online assessment, please review the Software Development Engineer Online Assessment Full-Time Preparation Guide in its entirety. It will help you understand instructions you need to follow before you start the test, during the test and after completing the test.

Once you are ready, set aside a block of 3.5 – 4 hours of uninterrupted time and follow the link provided below to start the online assessment. Please note: once you start this part of the online assessment you cannot stop and restart; so do not click on the link until you are ready to complete the online assessment in its entirety.
